

The Crow Workshop Series is designed to offer free professional development opportunities to teacher-scholars. These hands-on workshops will be held on Zoom, making them accessible to people across the globe.

Corpus in a Box: Automated Tools, Tutorials, & Advising (CIABATTA)

In this launch and open house, we will introduce our CIABATTA toolkit for building corpora, which has been developed collaboratively by Crow researchers across our network of partner institutions. We will briefly introduce how and why we built this toolkit, and then take questions from the audience on their specific questions related to corpus building.

All are welcome to this workshop, both individuals who can program using Python and others who have little or no programming knowledge but are interested in building and working with corpora. Registration is required; links are below and at writecrow.org.

Launch: December 6, 2021

10am to 11am (Arizona Time/MST)

Find this in your time zone: when-is-ciabatta-launch

Register for the launch

Open House: December 7, 2021

8am to 9am (Arizona Time/MST)

Find this in your time zone: when-is-ciabatta-open-house

Register for the open house

Corpus & Repository of Writing

This project has been supported by an ACLS Digital Extension Grant from the American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS). Learn more at writecrow.org.